

The impact of homelessness on children can be acute and chronic, immediate and cumulative, direct and indirect, seen and unseen. Homelessness is not a once off experience that children can easily bounce back from, it can become a defining event that shapes their lives.

Homelessness has significant impacts on a child's ability to engage fully with education

The financial costs associated with education also means that many children are not able to fully participate in education and often self exclude, limiting their future vocational opportunities.

Homeless Children's Brokerage Program (HCBP)

The Homeless Children's Brokerage Program was established to enhance opportunities for children experiencing homelessness to:

- Engage and maintain their education (including early education services such as childcare and kindergarten).
- Reduce social isolation by enhancing access to a range of support, social and recreational opportunities within their community.
- Provide social and emotional growth opportunities for children and provide opportunities to increase relational bonds between parents/carers and children.

The Homeless Children's Brokerage Program also aims to provide further encouragement to homelessness support providers to integrate child focused assessment and case planning into their work practice.

To help children and families break the inter-generational cycle of homelessness we need to ensure that children and young people are given the best chance to engage fully with education.

The Homeless Children's Brokerage Program can help to assist children and young people to engage with education.
